INTRODUCTION

Societe Generale Investment Solutions (France), hereinafter "SG IS (France)," is a wholly owned subsidiary of the Societe Generale Group.

This document outlines the terms under which SG IS (France) fulfills its role as an engaged and responsible shareholder on behalf of its clients.

As part of its responsible investment approach, SG IS (France) has defined a shareholder engagement policy applicable to the securities held by the investment funds (AIFs and UCITS) it manages.

This shareholder engagement policy is based on two complementary pillars:

- A shareholder engagement policy defining the topics for discussion with portfolio companies as well as the associated objectives;
- A policy on the exercise of voting rights detailing the governance principles applied at general meetings.

In accordance with Articles L.533-22 and R.533-16 of the French Monetary and Financial Code, SG IS (France) reports in this document on the implementation of its engagement and voting rights policy.

This report covers the 2025 fiscal year.

SHAREHOLDER ENGAGEMENT ACTIVITIES IN 2025

Key Areas and Objectives of the Engagement Policy

Socially Responsible Investing (SRI) combines financial performance with a focus on sustainable development issues, using Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) criteria. For all asset classes considered (equities, corporate bonds, structured products, and mutual funds), our SRI approach incorporates sectoral and normative exclusions, a process for integrating ESG criteria (a "best-in-class/best-effort" approach), and a policy of engagement and responsible voting.

In this regard, SG IS (France) has made several commitments, particularly regarding its exclusions:

- SG IS (France) applies the environmental and social exclusion list established by the Societe Generale Group, which includes a policy specific to the defense sector, as well as sector-specific exclusions such as thermal coal, unconventional hydrocarbons, tobacco, and palm oil;
- In addition, SG IS (France) excludes any investment in companies with a very severe ESG controversy rating ("Red Flag" controversy), as well as any companies with an ESG rating of CCC[1].

In addition to our exclusion policy and the integration of ESG criteria into our investment strategy, we actively engage in shareholder dialogue with the companies in which we invest.

Our engagement policy is therefore a key lever that is fully integrated into our sustainable investment framework.

OBJECTIVES OF OUR ENGAGEMENT POLICY

The goal of SG IS (France) is to establish an ongoing and regular dialogue with companies to encourage them to improve their Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) practices.

The Engagement and Voting team thus selects priority issuers for bilateral dialogue based primarily on the following criteria:

- Shareholder weight (in terms of voting rights held);
- The importance of the industry for economic transition and just transition;
- A specific ESG-related concern (a major controversy, a poor ESG rating, or, conversely, exemplary ESG practices).

Thus, for the year 2025, we participated in 40 meetings with 35 companies.

KEY AREAS OF OUR ENGAGEMENT POLICY

SG IS (France) has therefore established a shareholder engagement policy centered on three key areas:

- Dialogue prior to the Annual General Meeting (AGM): In this type of dialogue, we focus exclusively on bilateral exchanges with approximately ten companies—those with the largest shareholder stakes—to share our analysis of the various resolutions put to a shareholder vote;
- Thematic dialogue: we engage with the issuers in which we hold stakes—whether through bilateral or collective dialogue—with the aim of fostering long-term, ongoing engagement on various E, S, or G issues. The topics addressed vary by industry and are specific to each company;
- Collective dialogue: we collaborate with our peers and financial market participants through investor exchange groups at the international or local level. Within this type of dialogue, we address targeted issues.

Our report details our objectives and the actions we have taken in these various areas of dialogue.

(1) The methodology for rating controversies and ESG notes is based on that of our partner, MSCI. MSCI's ESG ratings range from AAA (the best) to CCC. The scale of controversy ratings ranges from "Green Flag" (moderate controversy) to "Red Flag" (very severe controversy).

Summary of Shareholder Engagement Activities

Establishing an ongoing dialogue with companies allows us to understand and assess how they manage, on the one hand, to mitigate the non-financial risks they face and, on the other hand, to capitalize on opportunities related to sustainable development.

The year 2025 was a pivotal one and marked a consolidation of our shareholder engagement activities. During the fiscal year, we held a total of 40 engagement meetings with 35 different issuers.

SG IS (France) engages in two forms of dialogue with issuers:

- Individual dialogues, through bilateral discussions with a company,
- And collaborative dialogues conducted alongside other investors through initiatives in which the management company is a signatory and/or an active member.

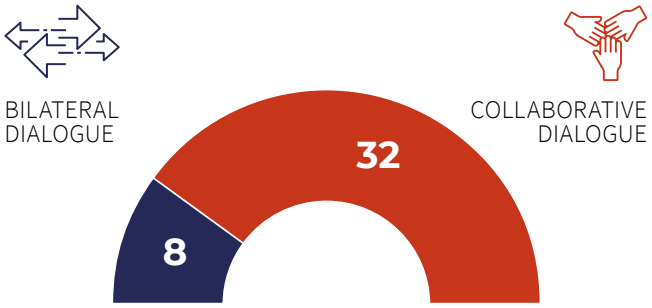
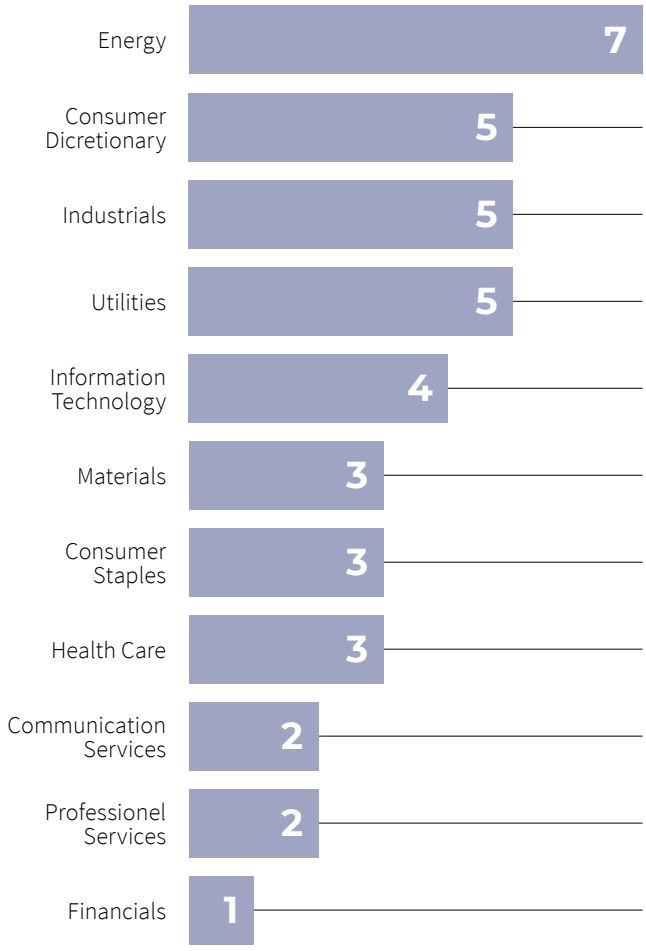
DIALOGUES DISTRIBUTION IN 2025



The business sectors of the companies involved are quite diverse, with a particular focus on the sectors that emit the most greenhouse gases, such as the energy sector (including utilities) and the industrial sector, which consists mainly of companies in the chemical and electrical equipment industries.

In 2025, the number of meetings by industry sector breaks down as follows:

NUMBER OF MEETINGS BY INDUSTRY SECTOR IN 2025



During these dialogues, we asked companies about their CSR action plans and the results of their CSR strategies to date. We covered several ESG issues material to the companies' business sectors, particularly environmental topics, with climate and biodiversity at the forefront.

Social issues were addressed from the perspective of a just transition, respect for human rights in supply chains, and working conditions.

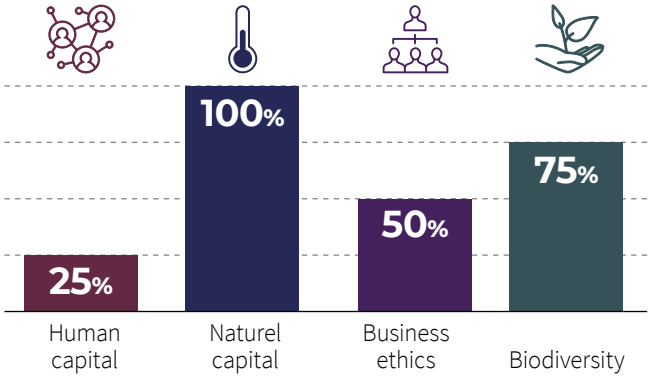
Finally, governance remains a key pillar of our analysis, particularly regarding the balance of power, board composition, and the integration of non-financial criteria into compensation policies.

INDIVIDUAL DIALOGUES

The purpose of one-on-one dialogues with management is to engage in long-term, constructive dialogue with companies. These bilateral meetings facilitate direct and in-depth discussions with companies to assess the relevance and implementation of their ESG action plans.

Among the individual dialogues established, SG IS (France) initiates meetings with companies prior to annual general meetings to discuss in greater detail the published resolutions, particularly the "Say on Climate" resolutions as well as decisions related to amendments to the articles of association and executive compensation ("Say on Pay").

PERCENTAGE OF CONVERSATIONS IN WHICH THESE TOPICS WERE DISCUSSED



Throughout 2025, SG IS (France) conducted eight bilateral dialogues focusing primarily on:

- decarbonization strategies and Net Zero pathways;
- the integration of biodiversity issues into transition plans;
- social risk management, including human rights;
- governance, particularly the balance of power and compensation structures.

For each topic addressed during the bilateral meetings, our analyses were shared and contextualized in relation to the companies' strategies.

Net-Zero Trajectory

Reducing greenhouse gas emissions is a central focus of our one-on-one discussions. SG IS (France) asks companies about their short-, medium-, and long-term decarbonization goals, as well as the measures they are taking to achieve carbon neutrality by 2050. Particular attention is paid to analyzing Net-Zero pathways, especially for companies in the sectors with the highest emissions.

Impacts on biodiversity

Biodiversity is a broader environmental issue that is becoming an increasingly prominent topic in our discussions. SG IS (France) assesses, in particular, the maturity of the policies implemented and the quality of the assessments conducted. As part of our commitments, we pay particular attention to two key indicators: sustainable water management and the fight against deforestation.

Human Rights Risk Prevention

To be sustainable, a corporate strategy must incorporate human rights considerations. Beyond regulatory compliance, this is a key tool for mitigating operational, legal, and reputational risks. With this in mind, SG IS (France) is participating in the Advance initiative, led by the PRI, to strengthen its collective action and deepen its engagement with companies on these issues.

ESG criteria in remuneration

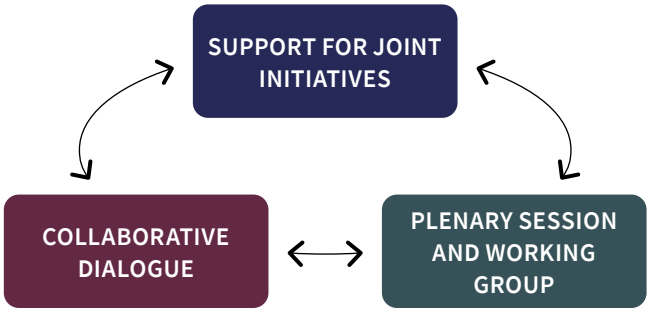
The executive compensation policy incorporates both financial and non-financial criteria. We pay particular attention to the inclusion and quality of ESG indicators in variable compensation, whether annual or long-term. Our analysis of these indicators aims to ensure a consistent alignment between executives' interests and their company's transition goals.

COLLECTIVE DIALOGUES AND PARTICIPATION IN MARKETS INITIATIVES

SUMMARY OF COLLECTIVE DIALOGUES WITH ISSUERS

In parallel with individual dialogues, we are strengthening our engagement actions by participating in several collaborative engagements conducted alongside other investors.

These collective efforts, coordinated through national and international initiatives, aim to support companies in addressing major ESG challenges, including decarbonization, biodiversity conservation, and stakeholder engagement in the just transition. These group meetings also aim to support the joint actions launched by these initiatives.

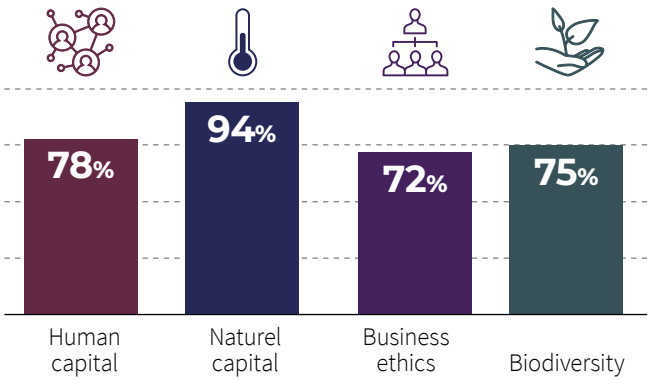


As part of our collaborative engagement efforts, we participated in 32 dialogues with companies.

The following chart shows the various topics discussed during these group meetings:

- Climate remains a central issue: the publication of our carbon neutrality goals as part of the Net Zero Asset Managers initiative guides our engagement priorities in this area.
- Governance is also a key consideration in this approach, as aligning the interests of the various members of governance bodies with a company's E and S objectives is essential to achieving them.
- Finally, biodiversity issues primarily concern investor coalitions formed under the Finance for Biodiversity initiative but are becoming increasingly important.

PERCENTAGE OF CONVERSATIONS IN WHICH THESE TOPICS WERE DISCUSSED



SG IS (FRANCE)'S INVOLVEMENT IN LOCAL AND INTERNATIONAL INITIATIVES

To date, SG IS (France) is a signatory to or an active member of several international and local initiatives that help promote more sustainable and responsible finance.

- Net Zero Asset Managers (NZAM): Initiated by an international group of asset managers and signed by 301 institutions, the Net Zero Asset Managers agreement aims to support the global goal of achieving "net-zero greenhouse gas emissions by 2050." SG IS (France) has been a signatory to the agreement since 2022.
- Climate Action 100+: created by investors, Climate Action 100+ aims to engage in dialogue with the world's largest greenhouse gas emitters to ensure they take the necessary measures to combat climate change. SG IS (France) participates in this initiative to engage with issuers regarding their decarbonization trajectories.
- Principles for Responsible Investment (PRI): an international framework supported by UNEP FI and the United Nations Global Compact, designed to help investors integrate ESG criteria into their decisions. SG IS (France) has been a member since 2020.
- CDP: an international organization specializing in the collection and analysis of environmental data. Through its Climate, Water, and Forests programs, SG IS (France) helps monitor risks related to climate, water, and deforestation.
- FAIRR: a network of investors focused on issues related to intensive livestock farming and global protein production chains. SG IS (France) supports the initiative by participating in its various awareness campaigns targeting companies in the sector.
- Finance For Biodiversity: an initiative bringing together financial institutions committed to the preservation and restoration of biodiversity. SG IS (France) has been a signatory to the commitment since 2022, which includes assessing portfolio impacts and setting biodiversity targets.
- Nature Action 100: a coalition of international investors aiming to encourage companies most exposed to nature-related risks to strengthen their actions to halt biodiversity loss. SG IS (France) participates in collaborative dialogues within this framework.

This table summarizes SG IS (France)'s key collaborative initiatives in 2025 and their objectives:

Initiative	Our objectives	Our actions in 2025
The Net Zero Asset Managers initiative	■ Commit to net-zero asset management by 2050 ■ Set targets for the proportion of assets under management ■ Review the proportion of assets under management every 5 years	The NZAM initiative was put on hold in 2025, and a new version of the commitment agreement will be released in 2026
Climate Action 100+	■ Engage with multinational companies on climate issues ■ Build capacity on climate action ■ Collaborate with our peers internationally	Participation in investor coalitions focused on corporate climate strategy: shareholder engagement with three companies in the food and retail sectors
PRI Principles for Responsible Investment	■ Commit to responsible investing ■ Participate in collaborative initiatives	Annual report completed
CDP DISCLOSURE INSIGHT ACTION	■ Target companies that lack transparency regarding their carbon data ■ Deepen our understanding of the sectors with the highest emissions ■ Participate in various engagement campaigns	Participation in the annual Non-Disclosure Campaign (NDC), responsible for engaging with four issuers regarding the Water and Deforestation questionnaires
FAIRR A COLLER INITIATIVE	■ Raise awareness among companies in the food industry about ESG issues ■ Participate in various engagement campaigns ■ Collaborate with our peers	Participation in the engagement and awareness-raising campaign: "Biodiversity: Waste & Pollution" (Phase 3) The final progress report on the engagement is available on the FAIRR website
Finance for Biodiversity Pledge	■ Incorporate biodiversity as a key issue in our ESG analyses and set our own biodiversity goals ■ Build capacity around our commitment to biodiversity ■ Collaborate with our international peers	Participation in two working groups on engagement and goal-setting
advance A stewardship initiative for human rights and social issues	■ Advocate for human rights ■ Engage with companies in key sectors ■ Collaborate with our peers	Dialogue on human rights issues in supply chains with two companies in the materials and utilities sector
Nature Action 100	■ Increase our commitment to biodiversity ■ Engage in dialogue with businesses ■ Collaborate with our peers	A discussion on biodiversity issues with two leaders in the agriculture, technology, and pharmaceutical sectors, alongside a dozen international investors

OUR COMMITMENT TO BIODIVERSITY

Biodiversity remains a cornerstone of our engagement strategy. By 2025, issues related to sustainable water management, land use, and combating deforestation were integrated into 75% of our direct dialogues with companies, illustrating the growing importance of these topics in our discussions.

Our actions also rely on several collective initiatives that strengthen our individual dialogues: the Finance for Biodiversity Pledge, Nature Action 100, and the engagement campaigns of CDP and FAIRR.

A signatory of the Finance for Biodiversity Pledge since 2022, Societe Generale Investment Solutions (France) has committed to integrating natural capital issues into its investment decisions and to structuring a dialogue with companies on their impacts.

We actively contribute to the initiative's working groups, particularly those dedicated to engagement and target setting. In 2025, we took another step within the pact by presenting our monitoring targets.

The low level of maturity of water and deforestation policies observed in our investment universe led us to make these two indicators a monitoring priority. Improving them is now a central objective for the next five years.

Continuing our efforts, we joined Nature Action 100 in September 2025 to focus our work on companies most exposed to risks and dependencies related to biodiversity. This collaborative approach strengthens the consistency of expectations for issuers, particularly those in North America.

We also participated as a co-signatory in the CDP "Non-Disclosure" campaign, which enabled us to engage 182 companies on water management and deforestation. Furthermore, we renewed our support for FAIRR for the final phase of the engagement campaign on the risks of water pollution linked to intensive agriculture. All these actions, as well as our operational objectives, are presented in our Loi Energie-Climat report, which is updated annually.

REPORT ON THE EXERCISE OF VOTING RIGHTS 2025

Voting scope in 2025

The voting scope applicable in 2025 has been defined to ensure representative and consistent coverage of the issues present in the portfolios. It includes:

- All UCITS funds with assets exceeding €25 million,
- All equity securities of issuers held in the above-mentioned UCITS funds.

The objective is to have a significant impact and prevent excessive costs inherent in the voting process. SG IS (France) participates in the general meetings of the securities of issuers whose consolidated holdings represent a significant portion of the asset management company's assets under management.

In accordance with its voting policy, and in its capacity as a long-term investor, SG IS (France) is particularly vigilant regarding the following criteria:

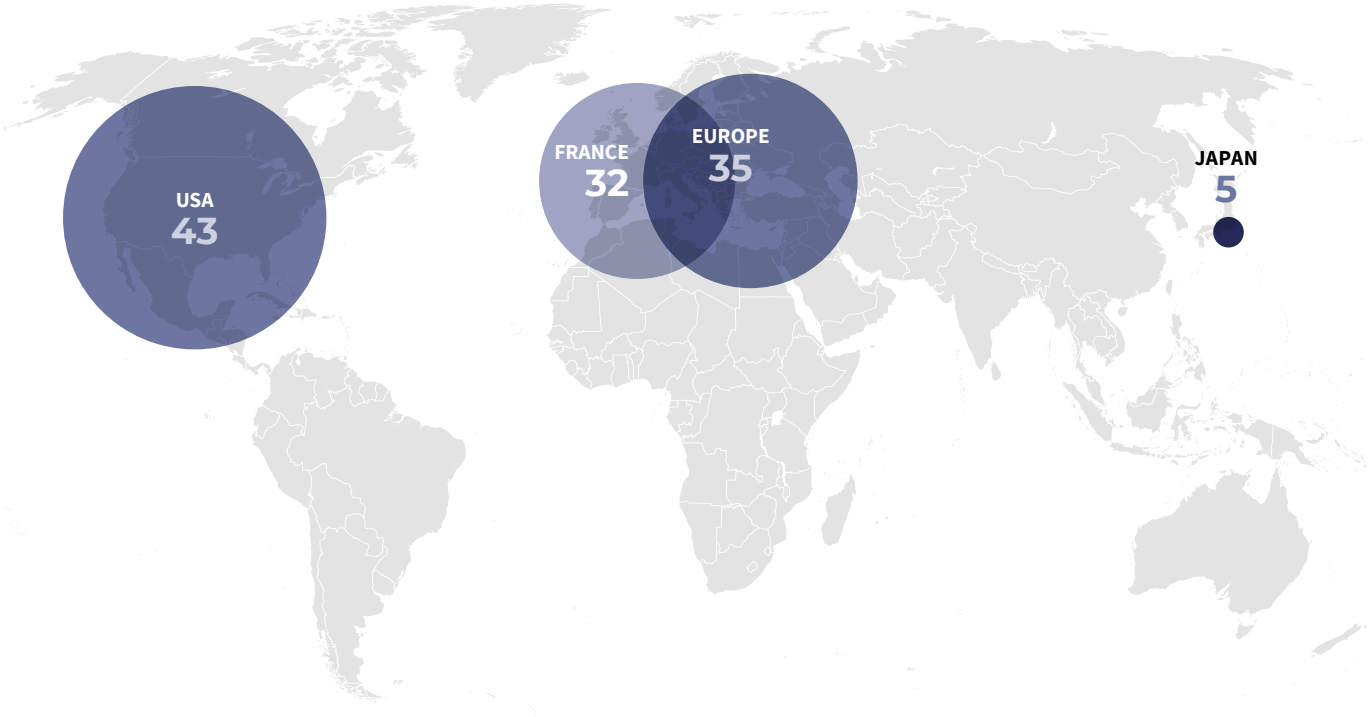
- Statutory measures that conflict with the principle of equal shareholder rights,
- Financial transactions with a dilutive effect,
- The independence and number of directorships of directors,
- The consistency between the company's remuneration policy, performance, and ESG commitments.

SG IS (France) reviewed the resolutions relating to 118 Annual General Meetings (AGMs) representing 111 different companies. Seven of these companies held extraordinary general meetings during the year.

The year 2025 was marked by the stabilization of our universe of voting stocks, which settled at 111 companies representing approximately 95% of the assets in eligible portfolios. Our voting scope covers all geographical areas represented in our portfolios. Only certain countries remain excluded for the time being, for technical or cost reasons.

French companies constitute slightly less than a third of our monitored companies (31 out of a total of 111), with the remainder primarily distributed between Europe (mainly the Netherlands, Germany, and the United Kingdom) and the United States (35 and 43 companies, respectively). The rest of the world is represented by 8 companies.

GEOGRAPHIC DISTRIBUTION OF AGMS IN 2025



To conduct the analysis of the 2,068 resolutions examined in 2025, our asset management firm relied on the services of proxy advisory firms.

SG IS's (France) internal analyst teams then reviewed these recommendations to determine whether they required adjustments based on specific circumstances or the content of any engagement dialogue conducted with the issuer.

Voting statistics in 2025

In 2025, SG IS (France) voted on a total of 2068 resolutions with an opposition rate of 18.2% and an abstention rate of 1.1%. This corresponds to 399 opposition votes including abstentions.

2,068 resolutions voted including 399 votes against

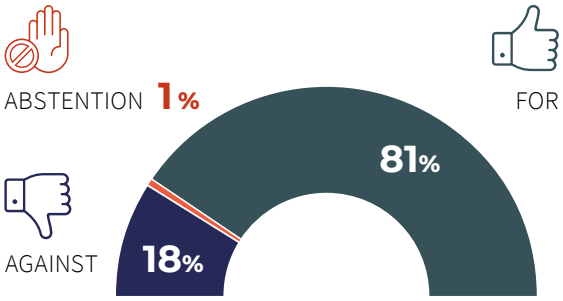
The opposition rate was 18.2% in 2025, compared to 20% in 2024, 18.1% in 2023, 20.3% in 2022, 18.2% in 2021 and 15.3% in 2020.

BREAKDOWN OF VOTES AT THE ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING



The expansion of our coverage area since 2021 has resulted in a significant increase in the number of resolutions passed, rising from 972 in 2021 to 2,068 in 2025. This allows us to cover the 111 largest holdings in portfolios, representing approximately 95% of their assets.

The following table provides a breakdown by geographic region for the year 2025:

Country	Companies	Number of resolutions	Vote "against"	Opposition rate
United States	42	616	203	33%
Europe	31	656	24	3.7%
France	31	716	142	19.8%
Other	7	80	7	8.8%
TOTAL	111	2,068	376	18.2%

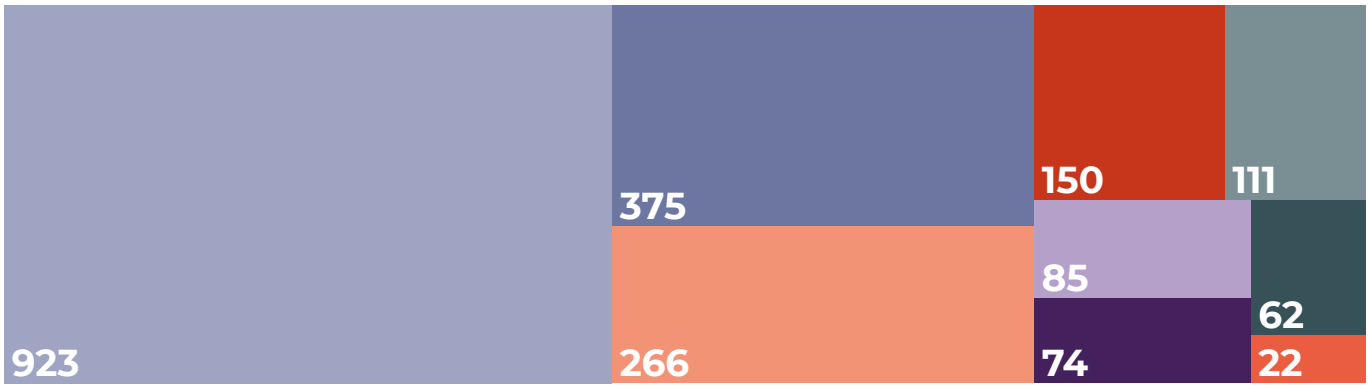
The variation in opposition rates from one region to another is explained in particular by the specific characteristics of each market in terms of agenda content. However, the themes and motivations for opposition are the same from one country to another, consistent with our ESG responsible investment principles.

The following chart shows the distribution of resolutions presented at general meetings by type of subject. The geographical expansion has increased the importance of appointments and removals of corporate bodies, which now represent 44.6% of the total, compared to 43% in 2024 and 36% in 2023. Conversely, ex-ante authorizations for the issuance and repurchase of equity securities are a French specificity, which explains their relative decline (12.9% of the total, compared to 11.9% in 2024 and 14.5% in 2023).

TYPES OF RESOLUTIONS SUBMITTED



- Appointment & removal of corporate officers 923
- Remuneration 374
- Share issuance & buyback programs 266
- Approval of the financial statements & allocation of the result 150
- Appointment of statutory auditors 111
- ESG Shareholders 85
- Decision resulting in an amendment to the bylaws 74
- Diverse 62
- So called regulated agreements 22

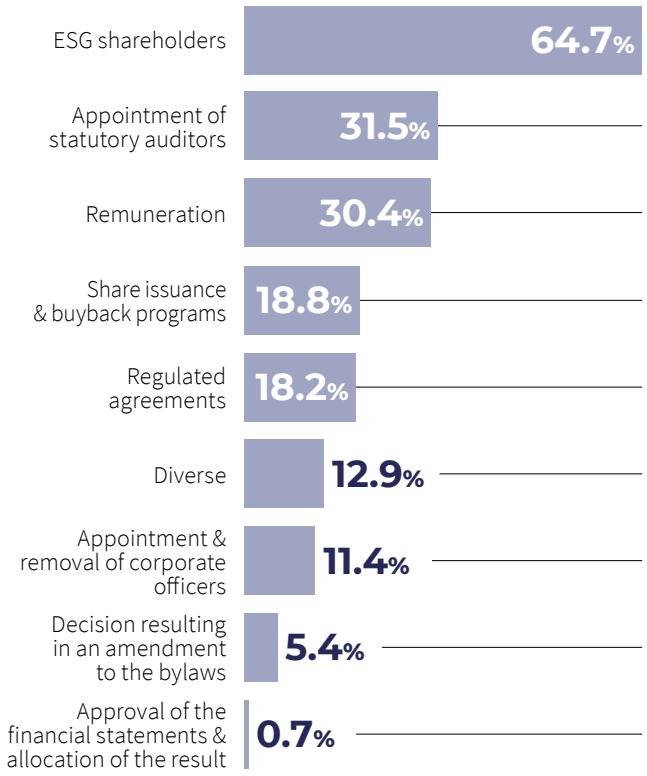
The main themes of the opposition votes

SG IS (France) voted against 376 resolutions out of the 2,068 that were voted on at Annual General Meetings for 2025. These dissenting votes were spread across several topics. For example, 30.4% of resolutions related to compensation received a "no" vote, compared to only 0.7% of resolutions concerning the approval of the financial statements and the allocation of profits.

Two topics stand out due to high rates of dissent, stemming from specific characteristics of Annual General Meetings in the United States:

- Appointment of statutory auditors: 31.5% dissent. In the United States, the vast majority of statutory auditors have been in office for more than 18 years, a threshold beyond which we oppose the renewal of their mandates, thus complying with European best practices.
- Various ESG (shareholder resolutions): 64.7% dissent. Of the 85 resolutions in this category, 75 were tabled at US general meetings. Our opposition rate is relatively high because many are redundant or excessive, reflecting the low barrier to entry for filing resolutions in the United States compared to other markets.

OPPOSITION RATES BY TYPE OF RESOLUTION



While the average opposition rate has not changed much from year to year, the distribution of our "against" votes has evolved with that of the resolutions examined.

VOTES "AGAINST" DISTRIBUTION

	Number of resolutions	The proportion of resolutions among all "Against" votes
Remuneration	114	30.30%
Appointment and removal of corporate officers	105	27.90%
Diverse ESG	55	14.60%
Share issuance and buyback programs	50	13.30%
Appointment of statutory auditors	35	9.30%
Diverse	8	2.10%
Decision resulting in an amendment to the bylaws	4	1.10%
So called regulated agreements	4	1.10%
Approval of the financial statements and allocation of the result	1	0.30%

Continuing the trend from the previous exercise, it is noted that more than half of the votes of opposition concerned either executive compensation (30.3% of the total) or the appointment of corporate bodies (27.9% of the total).

Once again, American companies largely account for the figures concerning corporate bodies, as they lag behind European practices in terms of both board independence and the representation of women on governing bodies.

Regarding compensation, the reasons for opposition remained consistent across markets (excessive amounts, undemanding objectives, etc.). However, the United States stands out due to the much more frequent absence of ESG criteria in determining executive compensation.

REASONS FOR NEGATIVE VOTES BY TYPE OF RESOLUTION

- Share Issuance and Buyback Programs

  These are primarily financial transactions with an excessively dilutive effect, including capital increases without preferential subscription rights (PSRs) deemed too high relative to the existing share capital. We have also been vigilant regarding resolutions that can be acted upon during a public offering period, as we believe shareholders must be consulted in such circumstances.

- Compensation

  In this category, we primarily ensure that the compensation of corporate officers is balanced between short-, medium-, and long-term elements, and, above all, aligned with the achievement of explicit and demanding financial and non-financial objectives (see the update to our voting and engagement policy). The significant increase in our dissenting votes reflects the inadequacy of certain compensation mechanisms during periods of crisis, as well as our increased demands for objectivity and measurability in executive performance evaluation criteria. The absence of ESG criteria is grounds for a negative vote, given that we recommend a target of 20% of variable compensation.

- Appointment and Removal of Corporate Bodies

  These primarily concern resolutions related to Boards demonstrating an insufficient level of independence, or the appointment or reappointment of directors holding an excessive number of terms. However, we also note the strong emergence of diversity issues, particularly regarding gender equality, which led us to vote against candidates who would not contribute to positive change in this area.

  Furthermore, a lack of or insufficient information about a candidate may have led us to vote against a proposed appointment or reappointment. This category also generates a good part of our abstentions because it is our policy not to vote in the appointment of employee shareholder representatives to the board of directors.

- Related-Party Agreements

  Regarding related-party agreements, those we object to generally concern either additional compensation for corporate officers or arrangements unfavorable to shareholders.

- Appointment of Statutory Auditors

  Our objection is most often justified by a lack of regular rotation of the firms responsible for auditing the accounts, which is not in accordance with French and European best practices.

- Approval of Financial Statements and Allocation of Profit

  In this category, it is essential to ensure, in particular, the appropriateness of any accounting changes and the nature of the distribution in light of the financial situation. The slightly higher objection rate compared to the previous year is due to the exceptional circumstances caused by the pandemic, which led some companies to maintain a distribution rate higher than our criteria.

SPECIFIC CASES

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

The guidelines of our engagement and voting policy are designed to act in the best interests of our clients and principals. However, SG IS (France) may encounter conflicts of interest when implementing its engagement and voting policy:

- Commercial relationships may exist with a company for which SG IS (France) will exercise its role as an engaged and responsible shareholder through its engagement and voting policy.
- The exercise of voting rights at Societe Generale Group general meetings.

In the latter case, SG IS (France) does not participate in general meetings of the Societe Generale Group or of listed entities controlled by the Societe Generale Group.

In all other cases, to prevent these potential conflicts of interest, the following principles and measures have been established:

The engagement and voting policy is approved by the Voting and Engagement Committee, which includes senior management, as well as the Chief Investment Officers and RCCI (Head of Compliance and Internal Control) representatives of SG IS (France).

- As with all our holdings, the general rule for cases in which a conflict of interest may exist is to vote strictly in accordance with the voting policy.
- In exceptional cases where a conflict of interest prevents the application of the voting policy, the following process will apply:
  - Analysis and presentation to the Governance Committee,
  - Decision by the Compliance Officer,
  - As a last resort, if necessary, the decision will rest with the Chairman of SG IS (France).

SG IS (France) did not encounter any conflicts of interest during the 2025 fiscal year.

CONFLICTS WITH GOVERNANCE PRINCIPLES

SG IS (France) may have deviated from its voting policy when information provided by the issuer indicated progress toward improved corporate governance or when clarifications were provided after the resolutions were filed with the Bulletin des Annonces Légales Obligatoires.

CASES OF MANAGEMENT DELEGATION TO A THIRD-PARTY FIRM

SG IS (France) has delegated the financial management of certain UCITS to third-party management firms (BlackRock, La Financière de l'Echiquier, Mirova, DNCA). The voting policy applicable to these funds is that of the delegated company, in accordance with the principles set forth in the delegation agreement between them and SG IS (France).

These funds, whose management has been delegated, must all comply with the SRI label of the French Ministry of Economy and Finance. Furthermore, their voting policies have been validated in advance by our teams.
